INTERNSHIPS

The Website Makers | December 2023 - January 2024

- During my Python programming internship, I engaged in developing and enhancing software applications using Python. This involved writing and refining code to implement new features, improve functionality, and ensure compatibility across platforms. I participated in debugging sessions, where I identified and resolved issues to optimize performance and user experience. Collaborating with team members, I contributed to code reviews, applied best practices in coding and documentation, and integrated third-party libraries as needed. Throughout the internship, I continuously expanded my knowledge of Python, explored different frameworks and tools, and honed my problem-solving skills in a professional environment.
